

Still using Hotmail, Gmail, Yahoo, etc. for your business emails?
Why? Make the right impression with your own domain name

50% OFF DOMAIN & EMAIL HOSTING

- 5 Email Addresses
- Monthly Transfer 100 MB
- .COM web domain name
- ONLINE Control Panel
- English support
- View your emails on any computer
- Easily forward emails from your old email addresses

Normal Account Setup Fee €9.95* & Yearly Price €19.95*

Normally €30* - Save 50% - NOW ONLY €15.00*

Email to offer@jfmhosting.com or call
902 947 775 to register your account

 JFM Hosting is part of JFM Multimedia

VALID TILL 15/06 2010

Do you like the prospect of having a company or family email address, such as info@jfmhosting.com but wouldn't make use of the web space available with our other hosting packages? Then the JFM Email Hosting plan is just for you.

Using "Hotmail" for your business? it just doesn't sound serious

If you're using a Hotmail account for private correspondence, that's fine, that's what its for! But if you're using HotMail.com for your business emails, then stop! Your wondering right now "is it really that big a deal?", YES, it's all about your business image. You would not go to a business meeting and scribble your phone number on the back of your shopping receipt!

when you meet someone at a business conference (that's what business cards are for), for the same reason you shouldn't email from a HotMail.com address. For personal contacts, anything is just fine. For business purposes, it just doesn't make the right impression or look if your serious about your business. If you personally don't mind about your e-mail address ending with @hotmail.com, you should know that some people do - and may not think you're a credible business.

LIVE & Ready to go Website €99.99

For those who require a ready to go Joomla Installation with an instant presents on the web, larger disk space for the website, email facilities already setup, domain name registration / management and mapped to the hosting account. This plan provides you a one stop live solution, giving you time to add pages at a latter date, at your own speed. Starting at only €99.99 per year, including 3 pre-built web pages, domain registration, this Joomla ready to go installation it's fantastic value. Whatever level your business is at and your own level of technical expertise, JFM Joomla Hosting can help you choose the right hosting platform for your needs.

Backed by a 7 day money back promise if you are not completely satisfied, coupled with continued development of new and existing features - all at an unbeatable price.